Negro Casas defeat Super Astro to win the UWA World Middle weight Championship on Tuesday, January 29, 1991, at la Arena Aficion in Pachuca, Hidalgo in two falls to one... This was Negro Casas tenth official challenge for this belt, and was his first successful venture. In fact, it is his first World Single Title ever. Obviously, now, it seems that Super Astro was an interim champion, undoubtedly to please el Gran Hamada. Can you just see the look on Hamada's face when Cinek (or whoever the booker is) comes in to tell Hamada that Casa is going over Asai for the belt? Hamada hit the roof, I'll bet, which isn't so easy to do when you're that short. Here he cuts Casas off the Japan tour and now has to explain keeping him off when he beats Asai when he explains this to the Japanese media! Just a hunch but watch for Super Astro to be the mystery opponent on the Universal tour beginning March 7.

Big card on Galavision this weekend! as big as they'll run at Arena Coliseo

- 1) The main event: Pierroth junior defends his Mexican National light heavyweight championship versus Mascara Sagrada.
- 2) The semifinal: Octagon versus Fuerza Guerrera. I am much more excited about this match than the main event. I'll be able to see really just how far Octagon has come since his June 1989 debut. I would also be willing to bet money that they are beginning to set the stage with this match for a mask versus mask match, no doubt culminating on March 15, 1991, at the big first quarter 1991 show, as it will sell out la Arena Mexico. No doubt Octagon will win, too. No way as fast and as far as he has come that they will be taking away his mask and gimmick.
- 3) Atlantis, el Rayo de Jalisco junior, and Lizmark versus Kung Fu, Mascara Ano Dos Mil, and Universo Dos Mil.
- 4) los Brazos vs. Ringo Mendoza, Anibal, and la Fiera, if he shows up. Always a pleasure to see los Brazos, and they seem to work very well with veterans.
- 5) Inicial: Mogur, Javier "el Monarca" Cruz, and Mano Negra vs Ponzona, el Hijo del Gladiador, and Comando Ruso (may not air on TV in fact I doubt it highly).

Cards:

This Sunday, February 3, 1991, at el Toreo de Cuatro Caminos in Naucalpan, Mexico, Mexico, the UWA has a big show planned.
